

HOT TIME IN CHICAGO TODAY

FORTY MINUTE DEMONSTRATION WHEN WOOD WAS MENTIONED—LOWDEN DRAWS A TREMENDOUS APPLAUSE.

By the Associated Press

COLISEUM, CHICAGO, June 11.—Up to noon today the republican national convention had heard General Wood and Governor Lowden placed in nomination and was proceeding toward the nomination speeches for Senator Johnson. An uproarious 40 minute demonstration followed the nomination of General Wood by Henry Allen, Governor of Kansas, Frank Knox of New Hampshire, the Wood floor leader and Mrs. Douglas the Wood seconding speeches.

The Lowden supporters apparently were as well organized for demonstrations as the Wood forces, and they carried on an uproar on the floor and in the galleries.

Miss Dorothy Disney, a daughter of a Muskogee, Oklahoma delegate was carried about the hall on the shoulders of two of the Oklahoma delegates.

The Lowden procession seemed to be making some accessions of supporters from the various state spaces, as it moved about the hall, the Connecticut delegates fell in with it. The Illinois, Iowa, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kentucky and Connecticut delegates showed up among the Lowden partisans in the parade.

Some of the delegates chairs were overturned as the parade became more riotous and there was much mashing of straw hats as the enthusiasts pushed their way through the crowded floor. Fifteen minutes after the demonstration began it apparently was gaining headway and Senator Lodge was making no effort to stop it. In the galleries there was a lot of noise, but at first not the coordinate cheering which had marked the Wood demonstrating. Presently, however, some Lowden cheer leaders got busy and loosed repeated cheers from the galleries.

Apparently there were upwards of 200 delegates and maybe more taking part in the Lowden rumpus, which went on past the 25 minute mark without a sign of abatement. At half hour the parading was about broken up, but the noise was still vociferous.

Someone turned on the light once more, and presently the procession began to reorganize, this time getting together more with its shouting and falling into a sing song of "we want Lowden". It was taken up by the galleries. A group of Oklahoma delegates buried the harmony by introducing a refrain "Lowden, Lowden, Frank O. Lowden."

By a rising vote and in a roar of applause the convention early in its session adopted a resolution offered by Alexander P. Moore of Pittsburgh, expressing "inexpressible loss" over the death of Theodore Roosevelt.

Mrs. Douglas Robinson, still mourning for her brother, Colonel Roosevelt, took the platform to second General Wood's nomination, the first woman ever to perform that function in a national convention. She got a rousing ovation when introduced by Senator Lodge. To stop the demonstrations, Mrs. Robinson raised her hand. "I can speak to you as one of the mothers of New York state," she said "who knows it was because of the foresight and courage of Lieutenant Wood, that their sons went overseas fit fighting machines and not as cannon fodder." With emphatic gestures, Mrs. Robinson said:

"We must have the kind of a man for president, who will look from America out, and not from Europe in."

"No man can tell," said Mrs. Robinson, "that had Theodore Roosevelt or Leonard Wood been in the White House, the Germans would have marched through Belgium to nothing more than the ringing words of a protest. We never want again a man who waits between right and neutrality."

Representative Rodenberg, making his nominating speech for Governor Lowden, got his great applause when he came to his encomium of Governor Lowden, as a business man and an administrator of ability in economic and financial lines.

As the unbossed convention rolled on, everything according to schedule, Senators Lodge and Smoot of the old republican school sat side by side, behind the chairman's table.

During the Wood demonstration Frank Hitchcock, supreme chief of the Wood forces, was on the platform conferring with Frank Knox, his floor leader.

The Wood procession was led by delegates from Minnesota, and it started snaking its way about the convention hall just as Senator Lodge had come to the front and rapped for order. It looked strange to many of the old timers to see women for the first time among the marchers.

There Is No Cause For Alarm

There is no particular reason for alarm on the part of the citizenship of this city who wish to see the city continue to grow and flourish simply because the proposed paving program has worked itself into a temporary log-jam.

A thorough investigation into the matter during the past three days reveals the fact that the citizens without exception are for paving or else many of them are lying; that the estimate of the engineer is not out of line compared with present prices of everything else; but it does develop that municipal paving bonds cannot be sold at this time.

Financiers, however, assure us that the bond market will be in condition within the next sixty or ninety days at the outside. If that is true the only sane thing to do is to readvertise for bids at the first sign of the approach of a stable bond market.

The legal processes necessary to paving have been gone through with; scarcely anybody protested within the legally allotted time for protest; the city commissioners, therefore, are duty bound to go through with the paving program as soon as the bonds can be sold and as soon as contractors can be secured who will place their bids within the estimate.

Any man who is not willing to let the matter take this process is either too stingy to pave or he has an axe of his own to grind.

Any sensible man knows that Ada is done if we are to leave the streets in the condition they are now in, which condition has existed from the foundation of the city.

More than that, any honest man is not willing to kill a city having the prospects that this one has, and that is exactly what will happen if some means is not devised by which we can proceed with the pavement of our streets—the only thing that stands in the way of our future growth and development.

Ada faces the most critical period in her history at this very hour. The destiny of this wonderful little city—a wonder and an eye opener to every man who visits it—is hanging in the balances. Jealousy, bickering and distrust will blast our fondest hopes. Cool heads, good judgment and a determined program of progressiveness will make us the idol of our dreams.

EVERY GROUP AT G. O. P. MEET HAS SHARE OF FAMOUS MEN

Every one of the groups of delegates and visitors to the G. O. P. convention, seen about the candidates' headquarters and hotel lobbies, has its notables—men who have been in the public eye in former years or in the recent political news. The two glimpses above show this. Senator Lodge was the man chosen to deliver the party's keynote speech. Senator Harding is listed among the Ohio's favorite son. Senator Lenroot is listed among the possible dark horses.

H. J. ALLEN SPEECH NOMINATING WOOD

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 11.—Described as the "outstanding candidate in the minds of the whole people," Major General Leonard Wood was formally nominated today by Gov. Henry J. Allen of Kansas, for the republican presidential nomination.

"A plain, blunt man, with a blunt belief in facts," Governor Allen said of General Wood, "he is today the best known American."

"No man in America has been given so many constructive things to do in this generation, and no one denies that whatever he has undertaken, he has done superlatively well."

An unexpected period of confusion has come upon us in the aftermath of the great war. Old ways are lost and leadership hesitant and indecisive drifts upon an uncharted sea.

"Under the weak hand of a timorous government, the social disorders and class-mindisms, caught from the world struggle, have grown to alarming proportions."

"The unchecked encroachment of sinister greed, the appalling waste of public money, the immoral pandering to class interests and class prejudice have brought us to a point where the nation demands and the world expects from this great council a leader chosen out of the great need and not through the cunning of political expediency."

"In seeking for the initiative and the prophetic wisdom to guide us in an hour that must be wholly constructive, we are fortunate in a candidate whose record reveals the qualities needed for the task."

"It is not necessary to ask for assurances from General Wood. There is the witness of his service."

"You ask for a business record. We present to you a record of four years as governor of Cuba, a record which gained him international fame as the most successful civil administrator the country has known. Leonard Wood's service in Cuba constitutes a page in history which records the cleanest and most unselfish thing one nation ever did for a needy people. Chosen to work out the benevolent policy of McKinley toward the people of the island for whom he had sacrificed our sons, he was given a free hand."

"He reorganized the island and framed a model government which stands today as proof of his sanity and constructive genius. His wisdom encompassed all the activities of the people. He touched with his vital interest its dead agriculture, developed its railways, taught the Cubans how to make just laws relating to everything from municipal administration to general taxation. He built American intelligence into a school system, reorganized the struggling forces of civil life into orderly government, made roads, introduced sanitation and hygiene, stamped out yellow fever and mephitic malaria and fashioned a stability that has withstood the test of the changing years.

"Possessing the highest degree of business capacity, it was something more than the work of a business man. It was the work of a statesman who had not narrowed his vision to the purely business life. It was the accomplishment of a great national organizer."

"A president must be a business man and more. He must be a statesman, he must have a broad view of the internal situation. He must know politics, for politics is what gives us our government, be it good or bad. Government is not better than its politics and to improve the one you must improve the other."

"The vague longing for a business man for president will not be satisfied by one who knows only business. The president must understand world affairs and the crossing and recrossing currents of social and economic aspirations. It was the possession of this broad capacity that brought Leonard Wood at the conclusion of his work in Cuba the commendations of the leaders of the period."

"A president must be able to interpret the shadow of coming events. We do not need to speculate concerning Leonard Wood's foresight. When the great war broke on the consciousness of the American people with a terrific shock, it was found that Leonard Wood had been preparing. We heard from him no platitudes about a million men springing to arms over night. On his own initiative he established the Plattsburgh training camps, created the first line of the national defense and gave to the thousands of magnificent young American men who volunteered a new definition of loyalty, a new opportunity or service, a new vision of their national obligation."

"We saw him accepting whatever task was given into his hands with the cheerful obedience of those who submerge self into service. In our state, where he trained many of our splendid young men, inspiring them with his spirit, fashioning them into the 89th division, the people witnessed his work with such pride that when the governor of our state, my honored predecessor, made him by proclamation, a citizen of Kansas, every citizen applauded. We watched him go away to the point of embarkation and then at the last moment we read with consternation that his great desire to take his division to the field was not to be granted."

"This man was no whimperer. Not an anxious hour was lost in sulking. Not a word was wasted in criticism. Not an instant spent in mourning over his personal disappointment.

HOOT JOHNSON—SPEAKER CALLS WILSON THE "ROYAL FAMILY"—NAMES McADOO AS THE "CROWN PRINCE"—PANDEMOMIUM.

BULLETIN

COLISEUM, CHICAGO, June 11.—With the nominating speeches of Johnson, Lowden and Wood out of the way, Connecticut was called and yielded to Massachusetts. Speaker Gillett of the house of representatives took the platform and placed in nomination the name of Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts.

By the Associated Press

COLISEUM, CHICAGO, June 11.—The big three—Lowden, Johnson and Wood—were all placed in nomination before the republican convention today. During the first four hours of a sweltering session, each of the nominations was accompanied with tumultuous demonstrations on the floor and in the galleries in which the usual scenes of marching, shouting, sweating delegates prancing about the hall, carried flags, banners and likenesses of their favorite candidate were witnessed.

Forcing the convention along at express speed to make up for the time lost in settlement of the treaty issue, efforts were made to hold the time given for demonstrations down to a minimum. Seconding features were limited to five minutes and two minutes, when there were more than two seconds. The effort was to reach the balloting before the adjournment tonight. All the nominating speakers got ready for responses from the convention.

Charles Wheeler, of California, who nominated Johnson got roars and cheers from the convention when he referred to the Wilson Administration, as the "royal family," and by inference to William G. McAdoo, as the "Crown Prince."

But when Wheeler referred to Senator Johnson as having had an inadequate campaign fund, the crowd let go a round of boos, jeers and guffaws, the Johnson forces broke through and Wheeler finished at 1:16 o'clock. A big picture of the California candidate was unfurled from the gallery rail facing the speakers platform and many smaller pictures were ranged along the rail and the convention floor became a picture of pandemonium.

Candidates Anxious

CHICAGO, June 11.—While the speeches were being made at the Coliseum today, the leading candidates for presidential nomination were in the seclusion of their hotel rooms, but were all within instant touch by telephone.

COLISEUM, CHICAGO, June 11.—In spite of the sweltering temperature inside the convention hall the delegates began to pile into their places a full half hour before today's session was to begin. They were rearing to have it over with and the possibility that the nomination might be made today, and the convention ended, seemed to take some of the edge off their distress from the heat.

Later again in getting under way, the republican national convention met under an agreement to stay in session until a presidential candidate had been nominated. The prospects were for an all day and possibly night session.

Who would receive the highest honor in the party's gift was as much on the lap of the gods as ever. Field marshals for the "big three," Wood, Johnson and Lowden, expressed confidence. They made no specific claim to more than the votes pledged to their candidates by primary action.

Senator Lodge, chairman of the convention did not expect that the presidential nominee would be selected in time to permit balloting on the vice-president before Saturday. There are almost as many vice-presidential booms as there are presidential candidates, but they have received only passing attention in convention circles at large. The balance of power still lay with the more than 500 uninstructed delegates. Despite days of missionary work among them, lieutenants of the leading candidates had learned little of their state of mind. It remains for the first ballot to reveal any decided drift of sentiment among the rank and file of the party.

No Fight Over League Covenant

CHICAGO, June 10.—After adopting the report of the resolutions committee thereby adopting the platform, the republican national convention adjourned at 7:35 tonight until nine o'clock tomorrow morning. There was no fight over the platform with hard fought plank on League of Nations.

When the convention reconvenes tomorrow it will be under an agreement to nominate a presidential candidate before it ends its sessions, leaving the nomination of a vice-president for Saturday.

As finally agreed upon by the resolutions committee and accepted by the convention the league of nations plank harmonizes the views of conflicting elements, some of which threatened to bolt the party.

Veterans Return From State Meet; Capt. Crow's Version

The Confederate veterans who attended the Ardmore convention this week returned to the city this morning. The convention was to have lasted three days, but it ended in commotion last night. Capt. A. M. Crow, commander of the Ada camp, when asked about the convention today, said:

"The convention closed last night. It should have gone on through today, but owing to the effort of certain men to turn the convention into a political gathering we decided to dispense with today's session and go home."

"No man can know him without recognizing the liberality of his mind, his opinions to conviction. As Root once said of him, 'He is hospitable to advice.'

"As president he will not seek to create for himself a neutral background of mediocre men. The nation will have that to which the people are entitled in its councils—the united brain power of the leaders. The sum total of the expression that mark him the outstanding candidate in the hands of the whole people."

"The choice that is made now may mould the character of the nation for fifty years and perhaps longer, for restive minds are plastic and the leadership that comes now will go far to determine the character of our government henceforth."

"There isn't an American worthy to be here who does not believe in the future leadership of this country. We'll have that leadership when we're worthy, and that leadership will not depend upon any national society we may join. It will depend upon the success which we make of the experiment of human government here and to that call the instinct of every man must rise."

ing our convention. But the interruption served to bring our convention to a sine die adjournment.

"Some of the soldiers were very bitter to think that a candidate for the United States senate would attempt to force himself upon us in this manner and his friends fear it will cost Mr. Ferris many votes."

"The report sent out from Oklahoma City and printed in many papers today that Mr. Ferris spoke to the veterans was an untruth and it will not do the men who sent out the story any good to circulate such reports in this state."

"The reunion this year was one of the best we have ever had with the exception of the closing events, which we all very much regret. We hope nothing like it will ever happen again."

The veterans voted to hold their convention at Tulsa next year and at Shawnee the year following.

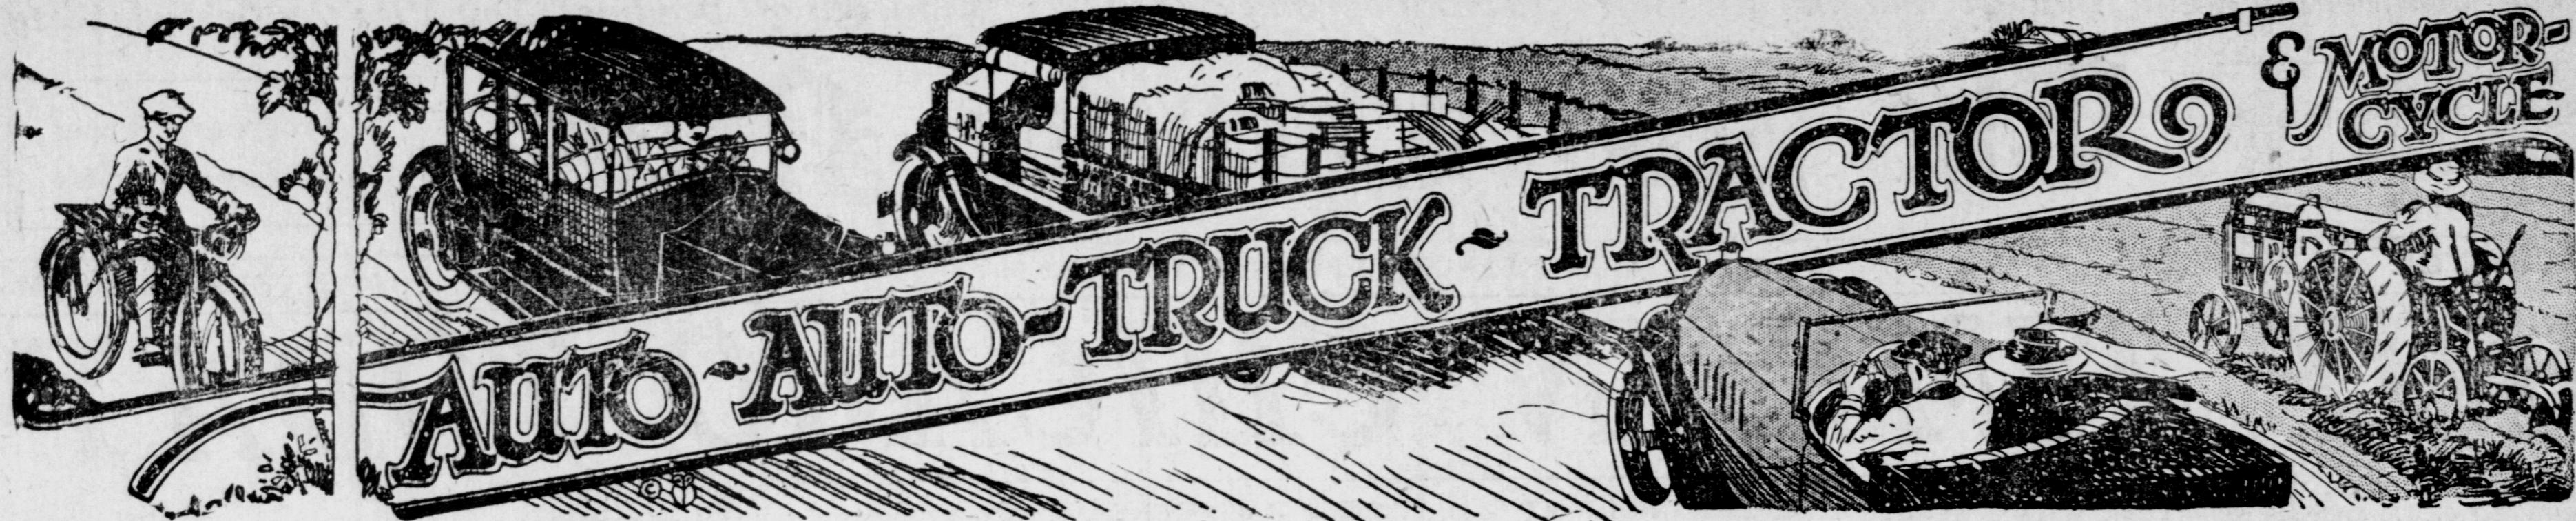

Judge Stuart Will Arrive In Ada from The South Tomorrow

Arrangements have been completed for the speech of Judge Stuart in Ada tomorrow afternoon. Judge Stuart will arrive in Ada at 11:30 o'clock Saturday morning on the Frisco from Ardmore. The speaking will be on Broadway just north of Main, and will begin promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

A large crowd is expected to hear Judge Stuart. He is a most brilliant orator and is sure to give his hearers a speech worth listening to.

Notice, R. A. M.

There will be a called convocation of Ada Chapter No. 26, R. A. M., this evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of work. F. C. Sims, Secretary, will apologize for interrupting.

CAR PRODUCTION MUST BE REDUCED

MANUFACTURES DECLARE THAT THIS WILL BE NECESSARY
BECAUSE OF PRESENT
ECONOMIC CONDITIONS

NEW YORK, June 2.—Curtailment of approximately 35 per cent in the scheduled production of passenger automobiles will be necessary because of the present economic conditions, it is estimated by manufacturers. They are willing to co-operate to this extent to bring about the deflation of currency and prices necessary to restore conditions more nearly normal.

Financial and transportation difficulties have made necessary readjustment of production programs. In the first place it is impossible to get to the factories the supplies necessary to operate as extensively as proposed earlier in the year. In the second place, the decision of the federal reserve board to hold down credits will militate against them.

Bankers feel that too many passenger automobiles are being bought on credit and they contend that many persons buying cars cannot actually afford them. They also assert that a considerable percentage of the cars in use are non-essential. Upon this argument they base their decision to curtail automobile credits. The manufacturers do not agree that passenger cars are any less essential than telephones or typewriters, but they are not disposed to assume a pugnacious attitude. They realize that drastic measures are necessary to put the country on a sound, economic basis, and are glad to lend their aid.

Credit will be supplied to finance completion of cars now under construction.

Trucks Classed as Essential.

The transportation crisis is more serious than the credit stringency. Operation of the roads has been taken over by the interstate commerce commission to all intents and purposes. Every effort is being made to untangle the jam of freight but it probably will be weeks before it can be accomplished. While the commission may not promulgate a formal priority order for freight shipments, the result of its efforts will be the same. Food and fuel will be moved first. Trucks and tractors will be placed up on the list of essential manufactured products and passenger cars will head the list of non-essentials.

The railroad and every other element in industry are seizing eagerly upon motor trucks as the transportation salvation of the country. Truck manufacturers will be given every aid possible to exceed their production schedules. It seems probable that the men who will be laid off in the passenger car plants because of the cut in production will be absorbed in the truck factories.

Men in the automotive industry are prepared to prove that automobiles are transportation. They are now trucking in most of the supplies they are using and are ready to go to almost any extreme to increase efficiency in this respect. Regardless of obstacles they will keep their factories going. Costs of manufacture will be greatly increased by the use of trucks for hauling materials long distances, but they are willing to sacrifice a share of the profits.

The war department and the council of national defense have outlined plans for the mobilization of trucks all over the country to help the railroads and the army will distribute for this purpose the thousands of trucks it owns, but is not using. Tractors and other machinery will be used to keep the roads in repair while they are under such a heavy strain.

Dealers as well as manufacturers must expect to forfeit part of their profits on passenger cars, but they can expect a bigger truck business than ever before. Economists, financiers and far-sighted business men are agreed that there is no occasion for alarm if the men who make up the financial fabric of the nation keep their heads and face the future with calm confidence.

With the price of commodities falling all over the country, it is encouraging to note that there has been no slashing in automobile prices. The National Automobile Dealers association has been able to find no authenticated instance where this has been done.

Sermons on the Parables

Beginning next Sunday morning, C. V. Dunn, minister of the Christian church will preach seven sermons on as many of the parables of Jesus. These sermons will be as follows:

1. The Talents.
2. The Good Samaritan.
3. The Rich Man and Lazarus.
4. The Pharisee and the Publican.
5. The Vine and the Branches.
6. The Pounds.
7. The Rich Fool.

All are cordially invited to hear these sermons.

W. T. Anderson, manager of the compress here, returned from Oklahoma City this week with a new Velle which he is enjoying on the streets of Ada at present.

Grant Irwin, the Buick dealer, reports a good business for the past month. Mr. Irwin states that the hardest thing these days is to secure sufficient cars to supply the demand. The Irwin garage carries a stock of $10,000 worth of parts and have a large stock of tires, tubes and other car accessories. They have the free air and water features and employ some of the best mechanics that can be had.

Fleet Cooper, the Nash man, is doing a big business. He reports several deliveries of these cars and has several orders to fill upon arrival of cars. Aside from the Nash agency he has a repair department for all makes of cars and carries a complete line of accessories. This firm has the free air and water service, together with the gasoline and oil filling stations.

The F. A. Ford garage and machine shop have installed a 200 gallon Wayne self-measuring pump for cylinder oil. This is something new in this line and is the only one of its kind in the city. They sell the Essex and Hudson cars and report a splendid business. Aside from this they have one of the best equipped machine shops in this state. There is not a part of any car that cannot be repaired in this shop. The battery of drills, lathes and acetylene welding machines makes it possible for this shop to turn out the best of work in a short time.

The Essex motor too, is patented. The same men build it who build the Super-Six.

It delivers three times the power of standard motors its size.

It is one of the smallest automobile motors. Yet it yields 55 H. P. Conventional motors of this size deliver but 20 H. P. at limit.

Already the Essex stands proved. It has set every official stock record for cars of its piston displacement from 1 to 50 hours.

It has set the world's official 50-hour endurance record of 3037 miles. It holds the world's 24-hour road record of 1061 miles. These regardless of size, weight, cylinders or type.

PLUMBER DOES NOT RETURN FOR TOOLS

A Chattanooga plumber has effectually served notice on the public that the standing joke about plumbers charging $1 and more an hour to "go back after their tools" does not apply to him. He carries his complete plumbing outfit with him to every job in a Dodge Brothers business car. The interior of the panel body is so arranged that there is a place for every tool and every part. There are no return trips and no delays. The owner, James H. Lipp, is fully aware of the advantage he enjoys with this equipment and uses it in his advertising. The car is painted purple, tinted in maroon and lettered in gold leaf.

Form New Highway Body.

MADISON, Neb., June 2.—Delegates from twenty towns have perfected an organization for a new east and west highway across the state to be known as the Upland Highway, with the object of shortening the route of the transcontinental tourist across the state. Leaving Lincoln Highway at Dunlap, Iowa, the new route passes through Onawa into Nebraska at Decatur, then through Madison, Ord, Sargent, Stapleton and Scottsbluff. This new route cuts off the big bend in the Lincoln Highway caused by the Platte river and takes the tourist over the uplands of the state instead of the lowlands.

Use Care in Applying Brakes.

Mr. F. A. Ford of the Ford Garage and Machine Shop says that a motorist cannot jam on his brakes without affecting his purse. Locked wheels are immediately responsible for tire bills. Mr. Ford showed the writer a new casing which had been driven only a few miles, yet the rubber was scraped away, exposing the fabric. At the very moment the wheels were locked by the brakes, the tire was passing over a stone which was dragged along with the tire. This stone sawed right through the fabric in one spot and punctured the inner tube. This careless customer, obviously the author of his own misfortune, complained that there was a "weak spot in his tire!" Yet all his trouble, delay and disappointment were caused by smashing on his brakes when he should have applied them gently. As a matter of fact, Mr. Ford says a car will stop more quickly if the brakes are applied gently.

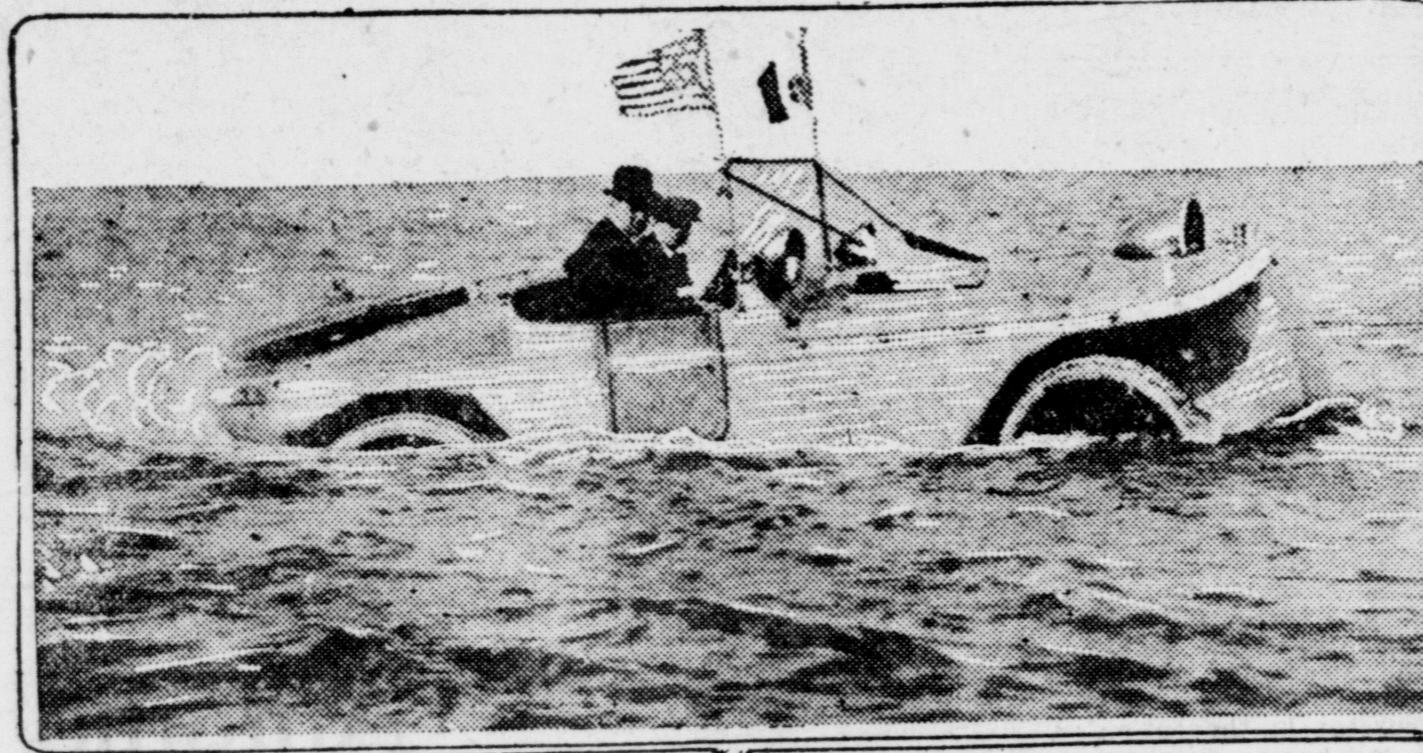

A NEW AUTO BODY RUBBING MACHINE

A mechanical rubbing machine for finishing automobile bodies has been developed in the experimental department of an eastern car builder, and is being used in the paint shop with very satisfying results. The machine is driven by compressed air, and its polishing members consist of two cushioned feet that move back and forth in opposite directions, states an illustrated article in the June issue of Popular Mechanics magazine. The mounting of these rubbing cushions permits them to conform to any curve of the body and to work vertically as well as horizontally.

ROCK AND COPE DOING A GOOD BUSINESS

The Rock & Cope Garage on East Main street is doing a wonderful business this month according to a statement made by Mr. Rock yesterday afternoon to The News automan.

"We have 10 expert mechanics in our repair department, modern machinery with which they work and there is not a thing we have left undone that keeps us from having one of the best equipped repair shops in the state. We make it a point to start the work on cars as soon as they enter the garage and try to have them ready for use at the earliest possible moment. This we believe will be service which is unquestionable. This garage has a storage room that will hold 100 cars. In their parts room is carried a stock of material for all makes of cars that is valued at $10,000. This feature alone assures the car riding public that they can secure practically any part at this garage and have it fitted immediately. Aside from these features we have a storage battery system and make a specialty of repairing old batteries."

Their information desk for travelers' benefit is a great factor in form of service. Road maps, information relative to roads and distances are among the many things that are given thru this department. They have a free service of air and water and have a man in charge of this feature whose sole duty is to see that the patrons and car-owners get the best service that can possibly be had.

A trip through this garage would convince the most skeptical that this firm is modern in every respect and that their service is paramount.

EDITOR ENTERS THE FIELD FOR CONGRESS

James Dennis Flynn of Sapulpa has declared his intention to compete for the republican nomination for congress in the Fourth district, and beginning on July 14 will campaign the district in an airplane owned and driven by Glenn Berryhill, a wealthy Indian. Mr. Flynn has long had an ambition to go to congress and this will not be his first attempt. Once he made the race against Alfalfa Bill Murray and reduced a normal democratic majority of 5,000 to 2,000.

Mr. Flynn's campaign this year will be on a platform against compulsory military training; against the league of nations; against policing the bad boys of Europe with young American soldiers; favoring equitable laws for labor; favoring home rule for Ireland; freedom of the press and woman suffrage.

J. Dennis Flynn is editor of the Sapulpa American and just recently acquired the Daily Pointer in Oklahoma City, which he proposes to convert into a morning paper. Some of the distinctions Mr. Flynn claims is that he owns the largest car in Creek county, has the largest house in Sapulpa, and is the father of 10 children—the largest family. He has lived in Sapulpa 12 years.

MOTOR CONVOY TO CROSS CONTINENT

Plans have been completed where by the war department will send a motor convoy from Washington to Los Angeles over the Bankhead national highway on or about June 15, due to arrive at Los Angeles September 1. The convoy will be under the supervision of the motor transport corps and will consist of a motor transport unit complete at war strength, one service park unit at war strength, detachment from the engineer corps and detachment from the medical corps. All motor trucks will be one and one-half tons capacity, equipped with pneumatic tires.

The purpose of this and other overland trips will be to study the handicaps which surround the transportation needs of the army on account of the lack of dependable and definite systems of highways, to secure data relative to the use of various types of motor vehicles, to secure relative data on solid and pneumatic tires, to train officers and men in extended field operations and to recruit personnel for the various branches of the army.

The federal highway council feels that such study by the motor transport corps will be of great value to the entire country because it will thoroughly establish the necessity of the federal government undertaking the construction and maintenance of a definite system of national highways.

ESSEX AT BOTTOM OF NORTH AMERICA

For the first time in the history of motoring, an automobile has been driven to the center of the Mesquite Flat Salt Marsh, on the floor of Death Valley, the lowest point in the United States.

The point reached is 236 feet below sea level, and the lowest in the world with the exception of the region about the Dead Sea in Palestine.

To reach its destination the car, an Essex, had to be driven through three miles of salt marsh where the heat of the sun, often reaching 160 degrees has built up a maze of salt pinnacles resembling the stalagmites of a cave. Some of these pinnacles stand up to a height of three feet, and all are as hard as concrete.

To drive the car through these it was necessary to cut a path with picks and shovels, a task which required eight hours for the trip. Similarly, it was necessary for the motorists to camp overnight, the salt pinnacles had to be cut off to make possible the placing of a sleeping cot.

50 Cent Gasoline Prophecy Hailed As Pure Nonsense

At a recent meeting attended by representatives of the Society of Automotive Engineers, the American Petroleum Institute and the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, the following points were brought out:

1. The present shortage and necessity for increasing the price of gasoline are the result of too little drilling last year and are, therefore, only temporary. There may be temporary shortages on the Pacific coast and here and there throughout the country.

2. The figures show that of the crude oil refined last year that gasoline from each gallon was 22 per cent, whereas in the mid-west, where production is biggest, 35 per cent of gasoline was taken from each gallon of crude oil. With the east and west coast companies using the cracking processes, so generally used in the midwest section, a great increase in the quantity of gasoline is assured.

3. It is not believed that gasoline will go above 36 cents a gallon at retail. The 50-cent talk is nonsense.

4. Gasoline consumption during the last twelve months was less than production.

5. One prominent oil man stated that as the present situation is the result of an emergency, the bid price on oil will remain high, but with the present bid price of $3.50 per barrel for crude oil in the midwest field more active drilling, with the resultant increased production, will follow.

6. The same oil man stated that with this increased production will come a lower price for gasoline. He believes that next year, 1921, gasoline should again sell at less than 30 cents per gallon.

7. The oil men advise the use of gasifiers; more careful designing of motors for greater economy in fuel consumption; that truck users should be warned against running motors when trucks are not moving and that carburetor adjustment to economy should be a general practice with all cars.

8. The automobile manufacturer suggested the need for better grades of gasoline, as the present fails of clean combustion and reaches the crank case, diluting the lubricating oil, with resultant damage to bearings; that the oil people should inform us at least a year or two in advance of the quality of gasoline that will be offered.

Hints for the Autoists

Polishing Board. A car owner who performs his own work recently invented an admirable bit of equipment that deserves to be better known. This is a board with two clamps, one on each end. Abrasive paper or cloth of appropriate quality is slipped under these clamps and it is then possible to polish any small objects on the board by rubbing them briskly over the abrasive surface with an oscillating movement.

Gord Gaskets

Carelessness in replacing manifolds of the Ford car so that the small gasket collars do not make air tight joint, is a cause of trouble often overlooked. It is well to fasten these gaskets in the holes in the manifold by using small pieces of paper to wedge them in and then adjusting the manifold to the holes in the cylinder. This plan obviates dropping them or getting them out of true.

Locked Car

When the drive wheels of a car are locked through breakage in the differential or in the universal joint, the car can be placed in position to be towed home by removing the keys that hold the rear wheels to the axles, allowing the wheels to turn freely.

Burning Cut Coil

When the spark gap of a plug is too great, so that the current cannot jump the gap, there is danger of burning out the secondary wire of the coil through heat caused by the great resistance.

Leaking Valves.

Loss of power is not the only trouble that is caused by leaking valves. The hot flame which escapes past the valves distemper the valve stem, softens the valve spring, corrodes the stem bearing and forms a sediment that prevents free action.

False Economy.

Imperfect cores and caps in the valves frequently lead to extensive and expensive injuries to casings and inner tubes. It is unwise to try and fix these small parts; the better way is to carry a supply of spares and replace doubtful ones with new parts.

Overheating.

Most drivers realize now that overheating is a long step on the way to an expensive replacement. If the ground for ignition current is made by soldering a copper wire on top of the rear cylinder, just as soon as heat enough develops to melt the solder the engine will stop without any attention on the part of the driver.

Motor Speed per Miles.

The crankshaft of a Ford car makes 2,440 revolutions in a mile and when running at the rate of seventy-two miles per hour it turns over 897 times per minute.

Fenders and Bulbs.

In cars where the headlamps are fastened to the fenders, looseness in these latter results in excessive vibration, which will account for rapid ruin of bulbs.

Pump Leakage.

When the water pump begins leaking do not assume that necessarily it is because the nut is too loose. Frequently the nut is not to blame at all, but poor packing is the real cause of the trouble. Packing for this part consists of candle wick soaked in talon, heavy twine similarly treated or special packing material. After the nut has been turned to press the packing down so not turn it further as excessive squeezing is apt to damage some part of the body of the pump.

Shifter Lever Troubles

Excessive play in the main shaft of the gearset may cause the gear shifter lever to be forced out of position. Usually the front bearing on the main shaft is shimmed, so that the condition is easily remedied. End play in this shaft also may be the cause of chattering in the clutch and a bucking when the car is on a grade or otherwise pulling hard under load. If this is not corrected in time the shaft play may cause permanent injury to the gears.

PROTEST AGAINST CANADIAN AUTO LAW

SASKATOON, Sask., June 2.—Interested principally in the new auto repairs bill, which comes into effect in Saskatchewan May 1, the motor car and accessories dealers of Saskatchewan met in the offices of the local retail merchants association and discussed how and where the new act affects them.

The decision arrived at was that in its present form it discriminated against the retail dealer in that it required him to carry a complete stock of repairs for all cars he sold for a period of five years from the date of sale.

It was generally felt that the manufacturer or manufacturers' distributor should be responsible for the repairs being readily obtainable and a delegation was recommended to meet in Regina.

Oil Pressure Adjustment.

Q—Explain the method of adjusting oil pressure on a 6-cylinder 1919 Oldsmobile Model 37.—Gerald R. Ispohrding, Cincinnati, Ohio.

The oil is fed under pressure to the main and connecting rod bearings of the engine. To prevent the pressure of the oil from rising too high, a spring controlled overflow valve known as a pressure regulator, is provided. The pressure regulator, which is located on the left hand side of the engine, near the bottom of the oil pan, is set when the car is assembled and requires no further attention except that it may be necessary occasionally to remove the valve from the regulator and clean the valve and its seat as well as the by-pass hole. The amount of pressure indicated by the pressure gage on the instrument board varies with the speed and temperature of the engine and the viscosity of the oil. When the engine is warm and supplied with fresh oil, the pressure as indicated by the gage should be from five to seven pounds when the engine is idling. At higher speeds a corresponding pressure should be indicated. Before the engine has become warm, higher pressure will be indicated at given speeds. In other words, maximum pressures will be indicated at given speeds when the engine is cold and the oil is fresh; minimum pressures when the engine is hot and the oil becomes thin from use.

Chevrolet Springs.

Q—Does any company fit Chevrolet with semi-elliptic springs?

Ans—Not that we know of. In order to do this it would require a great deal of work and the design of the present spring suspension would have to be changed. We do not think this change is warranted, as it upsets the purpose of the designers of the car.

Armature Rewinding.

Q—Where can a book of instructions on the rewinding of armatures for generators and starters be obtained?—C. B. Roy, Lafayette, La.

So far as we know there is no publication covering this subject.

Recharging Ford Magnets.

Q—Is it possible to charge a Ford magneto with dry cells? Show a diagram.—Amedee Roussau, Eagle Butte, S. D.

The Ford magneto can be recharged with dry cells if about 20 cells are connected in series. This ought to give about 32 volts.

Ammeter Trouble.

Q—During cold weather the ammeter does not function until after the car is warmed up. It is a Ford equipped with a Disco starter.—Reader, Aberdeen, S. D.

There is no reason why the cold weather should have any effect on the action of the ammeter. Go over the electrical system carefully and see that all connections are tight. Examine the cut-out and inspect the brushes and commutator. If the commutator is found dirty, clean it with fine sandpaper while the engine is running.

Fire Extinguishers.

Q—What size of fire extinguishers do you consider best for a fair sized garage?

2—Is there a book published which has good writeups on service, shop equipment, etc., that could be used as advertisements in local newspapers?—Rudolph Chevalier, Washington, D. C.

1—We believe that the pump type of 1½ quart capacity is the logical size to use if there are men around in cases of necessity. The advantage is that any person can operate this kind of an extinguisher whether he is familiar with it or not while if a larger size is used it will be clumsy to handle.

3—Hereafter an enlistment allowance of $90.00 shall be paid to every soldier who enlists or re-enlists for a period of three years.

AUTOS ENOUGH TO BELT THE WORLD

There are in round numbers 8,000,000 motor vehicles in use in the United States at the present time. "Makes one grand procession of all these cars," says Howard Greene in the May issue of Moto, "allowing four feet between cars and the line would be 20,000 miles long. If they traveled twenty miles per hour and you made up your mind to watch all of the procession go by, you would have to sit on the fence or stand on the curb or whatever it might be, for six weeks, days and nights. That's what 8,000,000 cars means."

STEELS IN A MAXWELL THAT DEFY TIME

The steels in a MAXWELL are as good as the steel in any car made.

For the very mission of a MAXWELL is economy of transportation. It is built light—but it is built strong, it has to endure, it has to stand the worst of road shocks.

To make it light but strong means the very generous use of those rare steels that provide both.

The MAXWELL claims to be endowed with steel that defies time, defies wear, defies shock, defies the moods of the careless driver.

You will find a MAXWELL will deliver extended mileage—as long life as any car built no matter what the price.

Such traits have made friends for the MAXWELL in all parts of the land, nearly 400,000 to date.

We have just received a car load of five passenger and roadsters that we are anxious to demonstrate to those who are interested in investing in a car worth the money.

We also have on our floors ready for delivery the latest models in VELIE and CHALMERS in sport models.

Such As It Is

(Cogitations by the Local Reporter.)

Yes, it happened today and continues to happen each day—our daily grind among the good people of this city.

The mornings when one leaves his home to assume his duties downtown he is filled with enthusiasm and is looking forward to the hours in which he can serve his fellowmen. He makes the day with trials, troubles and tribulations and at night winds his way to the place called home. We enter that familiar place and are greeted by those who are so dear to us—our friends and folks. During the stay at home, with the ones whom we like so well, many varied subjects are discussed, some of which are very important and should be given further consideration. Yet we sometimes let matters that are worthy of further remembrance drop from our minds and they are lost forever. And, too, on the other hand, we can discuss things and bear the remembrance that may cause one grief and anxiety. And such as it is.

We engage in our tasks of finding out what other people know and sometimes wish we had not been so bold in our approach to these particular people. Yet we meet and talk to people who reveal many things that are worthy and we are glad to relate anything that they think will be of benefit to their fellowmen. And such as it is.

Day after day we meet and talk with people, some appear unfriendly, yet we sometimes can lay this stress to one's approach and their personal appearance. No matter how many you may be, nor your personality, there is always some person who at times feels more prominent than they really possess. And yet, you meet those people who believe that one of the greatest things in this world is to make others feel welcome in their presence and are glad at all times to render any assistance in their power. And such as it is.

We have in this city of ours, Ada by name, a population of probably 12,000 people. You can find people in this body from every walk of life. People who have had experiences that they are justly proud of and feel at times that sense of pride that keeps these things from reaching the ears of the public. And, too, we have people in our midst who have had experiences which they relate to persons who do injustice to facts, thus causing discord which takes time to properly re-instate. And on the other hand, we have those cheerful people who gladly relate anything of interest

GOVERNMENT BY BRIBERY

Not many public officials sell themselves outright for cash. We have known quite a few men in state and federal offices, and we have known exceedingly few who would respond to the temptation of a bribe. A lot is heard about corruption in high places and most people believe that officials are corrupted by money when corrupted at all. But very few men in official life ever sell themselves for money.

But many public officials who are considered honest and consider themselves incorruptible are influenced in a most insidious way. They surrender to their fears. Powerful interests tell them plainly that if they support a certain measure or oppose a certain measure, they will be defeated in the next election. They compromise with their conscience on the basis of such threats and sell their votes and their honor for another chance at official tenure. They have been bought in an indirect way. But they are bribe takers just the same.

In every political campaign we see special interests busy publishing the official records of candidates, particularly candidates for congress and the legislature. Appeals are made to every member of that special interest to read the record carefully and vote for the good of the interest. We have no quarrel with such procedure. The interest has the right to issue such records. Its members have the undoubted right to follow that record. But language is too weak to fitly characterize the conduct of the public official who votes with that record in mind and steers his course as an official to keep his record straight with such interest.

In our experience we have seen legislators and congressmen who would indignantly reject any bribe however great or small. But we have seen these same men accept the program of certain classes and work for that program, knowing that the program was wrong and detrimental to the interests of the whole people. They think they are honest, but they are just as dishonest and just as corrupt as the man who pockets a hundred dollars and votes as he has been paid.

CONFUSION ATTENDED
CARRANZA DEPARTURE

By the Associated Press

MEXICO CITY, May 19.—Wild confusion attended the evacuation of the Mexican capital by President Carranza and his following. Revolutionists were approaching and those who were going had to go quickly.

Rolling stock had been gathered at the Mexicano Railway terminal in preparation for their departure. When the word was passed down through the various government departments that the exodus was about to begin, thousands of government employees, leading civilians who had been strong supporters of the Carranza regime, partisan journalists and others headed for the trains on foot and every kind of vehicle obtainable.

Throughout the night before the trains left, a constant stream of coaches and automobiles deposited government officials, politicians and other government hangers-on at the railway station amid a babel of cries and entreaties to porters and expressmen.

Next morning they came in increased number.

Loaded down with bulging bundles, suit cases, bags, hampered by dogs, crying children and confused servant, the procession might have been taken for a gigantic picnic party had it not been for the strained, frightened expression on the fugitive's faces.

The National Railways were the first to store their impediments on the trains assigned to them. Then came government officials, shepherding porters with great stacks of records, and office furniture. In the excitement, the officials had failed to show discrimination, for many of the cargoes consisted of hat racks, cuspidors and even window curtain rods. All this heterogeneous mass was dumped into passenger coaches and gondola and between pieces of artillery and airplane equipment on flat cars.

While some of the porters complied with their duty, others were to be seen streaking not toward the Buenavista station, but toward the poorer sections of the city, carrying what evidently will find a ready sale in the capital curio and second-hand shops.

At only one track was there a semblance of order—the siding where the treasure cars had been spotted. Here Luis Cabrera was in command and, after the trains had left, not even a copper centavo was found by treasure seekers. There were 300 cars of all classes and 24 locomotives in the station ready to leave by midnight. Estimates as to the soldiers and civilian refugees very, but the generally accepted figure is placed at about 5,000, a village on wheels.

For hours the fugitives waited,

"YOUR BESETTING SIN"
What to do with it?
TAYLOR—SUNDAY NIGHT

but the trains did not start and flying rumors kept the occupants of the cars peering anxiously into the night for the vanguard of the revolutionary forces. Agents of the liberal constitutionalists had tampered with the train crews and it was necessary to send patrols to round them up.

Next morning locomotive bells began to clang, whistles shrieked and a great wave of weeping farewells arose. Bursting with soldiers and women camp followers, officials and civilians, baggage and munitions, airplanes, artillery, boxes of coin, piles of gold and silver bars, government records, cuspidors and hat racks, the train moved slowly into the suburbs. The Carranza government had started to move the capital.

And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark.

For though, from out the bourn
of time and place,
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face.
When I have crossed the bar.

Wedding tomorrow of Miss Caroline Prewett to Mr. Christian Conrad Erickson of Drumright.

Personal Mention

Miss Ola Burke has returned from Sulphur where she spent several days the guest of friends.

Gilbert Montgomery has returned from Louisiana, where he has been working in the oil fields of that state.

Fred Abney has enrolled in the Stauffer Business college and will take up the studies of penmanship and typewriting.

Mrs. W. M. Dow of Dallas, who has been visiting Mrs. W. E. Ross and other relatives, has returned to her home.

Mrs. T. A. Morrison of Eastland, Texas, formerly Miss Nell Hurst, of Ada, is in the city visiting her mother, Mrs. Lela Hurst, at 800 East Eighth street.

Rev. Wallace M. Crutchfield made a brief visit in the city today while enroute from Oklahoma City to Hugo, where he is stationed. Bro. Crutchfield was seeing after materials for a new church which he is erecting in Hugo.

R. E. Blanks and family and Misses Alice and Agnes Cameron and Opal Jones motored to Boggy creek last evening and enjoyed a picnic lunch. They report a pleasant evening spent and that that stream of water and its surroundings make an ideal place for such occasions.

Rosedale Cemetery One of Best Kept in State; Chapel Is To Be Built

Most people have spooky thoughts concerning a graveyard and, partly for that reason, perhaps, the place is many times a neglected spot. While it is not a place to go on a merry-making visit, the public cemetery should be so kept up that it will bear inspection at all times. The public utterance is, "I don't care what happens to me when I'm gone," but, few people who make those statements would really want their last remains handled like common carrion.

Proper and fitting burial ceremonies show the respect of man for man and proper upkeep of burial places shows the continuation of that respect. The payment of tribute to the dead will not help the dead but it will show the love of the living.

We are glad (not just newspaper talk, either) that Ada's cemetery, Rosedale, is in good condition and improvement is going on all the while. There are 30 acres in the cemetery and it is enclosed by a nice metal wire fence with a nice archway at the entrance.

About half of this ground has already been taken up by burial places. Many flowers, trees and grass plots adorn the graves of the dead. And what is more, they are well kept. Well might the oft-used phrase, "Rest in peace," be carried into effect here. It is a beautiful, secluded spot and the most particular would have no grounds for wishing a better burial place for the deceased.

J. E. England is the sexton of Rosedale and is doing his best to beautify the place. That he is succeeding need only be proved by visitation. Mr. England is endeavoring to get a code of rules and regulations for the cemetery to be governed by. There is one other man in the regular employ at Rosedale and several others at odd times.

The Cemetery Association of the town is really the force backing the cemetery's improvement. During the last membership drive a fund of $583.40 was raised. The association plans to erect a chapel in the cemetery in the near future. They are already considering plans for its erection. It is to cost approximately $7,000. It will be for the convenience of all parties who use the cemetery. There are many people, not connected with any special church or organization, to whom this chapel will be of especial value.

There are about 1400 graves in Rosedale besides the graves in the old cemetery which was filled years ago. These graves represent the high and low, the rich and the poor. The occupants seem to show no hesitancy in resting together. The Great Reaper seems to have exerted a leveling influence over the whole assemblage, where cast is abolished and creed is forgotten.

Schienberg Says Let's Go Ahead With the Paving

In view of the fact that the bugaboo of the high cost of paving of the streets of Ada has been explained more clearly than some would have led us to believe, I for one say let us go ahead and re-advertise for bids about the latter part of July. At that time I believe we will have plenty of bidders and our paving bonds will sell readily.

Do not let us stop for the lack of enthusiasm. We must pull Ada out of the mud. Paving is a necessity, not a luxury. If the smaller towns in Oklahoma can afford to pave, so can Ada. Do not be misled by calamity bowers. There is absolutely nothing wrong with Ada. It is healthy physically and sound financially, and if we do not prosper more with the streets of Ada paved than ever before it will merely be the result of fear and wrong-thinking.

The men who build and make it possible for a town to grow are never grumbler or pessimists nor do they look through smoked glasses. Elbert Hubbard once said that "man has a great many troubles but most of them never happen."

What Ada needs is more lions and less rabbits. Pave the streets and let Ada get in the Big League class.

Yours very truly,
BEN SCHIENBERG.

5-YEAR-OLD LASS IS FIEND'S VICTIM

Gwendolyn Mae Sherman.

While attending a school picnic at Powell, Wis., Gwendolyn Mae Sherman, five years old, was attacked and murdered by Edward McLeod. She had wandered away from her playmates. McLeod was captured, confessed and was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Wisconsin state penitentiary within twenty-four hours of the commission of the crime.

Indictment Thrashed
NEW YORK CITY. June 11.—Indictments, charging profiteering against the American Woolen companies in New York and Massachusetts and William M. Wood, president of the corporation, were quashed today by Federal Judge Mack. Judge Mack sustained a demurrer interposed by Chas. E. Hughes, special counsel for the defense, which held that woolen goods did not constitute wearing apparel, and therefore did not come within the meaning of the Lever act.

Christian Science Christian?
Christian Science has attracted much attention in recent years. In some sections it has won many adherents. Is this doctrine worthy of the acceptance of thinking people? Is it Christian? This question will be answered at the Christian church Sunday morning. All welcome. C. V. Dunn, Minister.

Katy Flyer Is Saved by Youth

TEXAS BOY FLAGS TRAIN WITH SWEATSHIRT ON BRINK OF A WASHOUT — $1,000 IS GIVEN TO LAD.

WACO, Texas, June 11.—Eleven year old Roy Kennedy is the hero of Texas today.

His courage, presence of mind, and a little red sweater saved the lives of 250 passengers, including 125 delegates to the republican state convention, bound for San Antonio over the M. K. & T. road.

Torrential rains had fallen. The boy, anxious to watch Donahue Creek rise, left his home at Bartlett. There he discovered 600 feet of trackage had been washed away.

Less than a mile away, he saw the approaching flyer. He knew the train would plunge into 12 feet of water unless it could be stopped.

Pulling off his little red sweater, the boy raced up the track. Frantically he waved the danger signal. The engineer thought the lad was playing. But when the speeding train came within a few feet of the boy who still remained on the track, the man in the cab flung on the brakes.

The lad jumped just as the train came within a few feet of him. The engine stopped just seven feet from where the trackage had been washed away.

Passengers swarmed about the boy, making up a purse which totaled $5,000. The railroad announced it would add its check for $1,000 to the fund.

"Gosh, I didn't do nothin'!" Roy told the passengers about him. "I saw a guy do that in a movie, that's how I knew what to do."

The youthful hero was later confined to his bed, physicians explaining the fear he felt as the engine kept coming toward him without stopping had caused a nervous breakdown.

SOCIETY

Porter-Ray

The marriage of Miss Martha George Porter to Warren Christopher Ray was solemnized Tuesday, June the eighth, at 10:30 a. m., at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Case, 925 S. Broadway, before a large group of relatives and close friends.

The impressive ring service was read by Rev. Clyde Calhoun Morris, pastor of the First Baptist church.

After the song "All For You," by D'Hardelot, played by Mrs. Byron Norrel's skilled fingers and exquisitely sung by Miss Moss Wingo, the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" ushered the bridal party down the stairway. Pat Sloon Case and Merle Corine Case, small cousins of the bride, daintily clad in white ruffled organdy dresses, piquant ribbon bows and strewing sweet peas from arm baskets, parted the white satin ribbons and led the way through a rainbow-streamered aisle to an altar-arch banked with blooming pots of calla lilies, tall baskets of pink and white larkspur overhung with smilax drapery and centered with a sweet-pea and tulle covered wedding bell. The bridesmaids, Misses Beatrice Craig, Gladys Riddling and Lady Kate Thompson, wore frocks of blue, green and lavender organdy, hats of organdy and tulle and carried organdy-tied arm baskets filled with sweet peas, and were accompanied by Robert Blanks, Jr., Sam Shienberg and Dennis Davis. Mrs. R. A. Herndon, aunt of the bride, was the matron of honor, and Miss May Joe Miller, the maid of honor. They were gowned in yellow and pink organdy corsaged with sweet peas, and wore yellow and pink organdy hats. Little Caroline Case, fairy-like in lace frilled pink organdy, carried the ring on a satin cushioned tray.

The bride entered with her brother, Edwin F. Porter of Stonewall, Oklahoma, wearing a navy blue tricotine Eton traveling suit with a navy blue georgette Russian blouse embroidered in crystal beads and Roman sashed, with a wide brown taffeta hat, brown fur choker, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses, sweet peas and sweet alyssum.

The song "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms," sung by Miss Wingo following the marriage service, was a beautiful benediction continued by the minister in the closing prayer. Mrs. Norrell and Miss Wingo wore pale grey and green costumes and carried bouquets of sweet peas.

A short reception was held. Punch was served in the music room which was profusely decorated with lavender larkspur, by Miss Mary Frances Case attired in lavender organdy, and assisted by Birch Case. The bride's cake, fringed with sweet peas on a fillet cover, was rolled in on a tea-wagon. Her bouquet was captured by Miss Gladys Riddling. The gifts were numerous and handsome, notably those sent by the Lamb Club of Enid, Oklahoma. The bride's gifts to the maid in attendance were initialed gold lingerie clasps.

The charming bride, a native Texan and a daughter of Mrs. Cora Case Porter, a D. A. R., and prominent librarian of Enid, Oklahoma, was graduated from East Central Normal after three years of study in Baylor College, Belton, Texas. She had special training in Columbia University, and has taught kindergarten in the Oklahoma City schools for the past two years.

Mr. Ray is a substantial business man and oil contractor of Wichita Falls, Texas. W. C. Rutt, a business associate, also of Wichita Falls, was his best man. Mr. and Mrs. Ray left on the noon Katy train for Fort Worth, Texas, enveloped with much rice, old bird is especially lustrous.

The out of town guests were: Mrs. Cora Case Porter of Enid, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Porter and baby daughter, Eleanor Case of Stonewall and Mrs. E. Frank Case and Children of Wagoner, Oklahoma.

Breakfast for Miss Porter.
Mrs. J. A. Case and Mrs. Byron Norrel entertained the bridal party of Miss Martha George Porter at breakfast Monday morning at eight o'clock at the home of the former, 412 South Townsend.

The house was beautifully decorated. A wedding bell of smilax hung above the table, which was centered with a basket of pink and white larkspur on a mirrored base. Three course breakfast consisted of grapefruit garnished with cherries, sweetpeas, fried chicken, potato chips, jelly omelet, hot rolls, coffee, hot cakes and maple syrup.

The hostesses were assisted in serving by Mrs. P. S. Case and Mrs. Frank Case of Wagoner, Oklahoma. The guests were Miss Martha George Porter, Mrs. Cora Case Porter of Enid, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Porter of Stonewall, Beatrice Craig, Sam Schienberg, Miss Moss Wingo, Birch Case, Mary Francis Case, Dennis Davis, Gladys Riddling, Lady Kate Thompson, Robert Blanks, Jr., May Joe Miller, and Mrs. R. A. Herndon.

A Farewell Dinner

Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. John L. Case entertained Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Gordon and Mrs. Cora Case Porter of Enid at a 6 o'clock dinner on South Townsend. The dinner was in the nature of a farewell to the guests, Doctor and Mrs. Gordon, leaving next day for their new home at Tulsa, and Mrs. Porter returning to her home at Enid. The Case and Gordon families lived in the same neighborhood in their youth and an intimate friendship has always existed between them. Those present were Dr. and Mrs. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Porter and Mr. and Mrs. John Case.

Miss Lady Kate Thompson Honoree

A very jolly time was had on Wednesday evening, when Mrs. John L. Case entertained a dinner party at Mrs. Land's, honoring Miss Lady Kate Thompson, her niece who was leaving on the night train for her future home in Waco, Texas. Those seated with the hostess were: Mesdames Frank Case of Wagoner, Oklahoma, Ruth Carter, R. H. Herndon; Misses Beatrice Craig, Lillian Hodge, Nell Hodge, Fannie Wingo, Lillie Wingo, Moss Wingo, Lady Kate Thompson and Francis Case.

OIL MILL HERE BIG INDUSTRY

COTTONSEED IS DRAWN FROM FIFTY MILE RADIUS OF ADA AND LAST YEAR HAD BIG SALES

The popular mind often fails to give proper credit to local institutions and industries. They are in our midst and we forget to recognize them as vital factors in maintaining the strength of the community.

Few people, I dare say, have lived in Ada for any length of time without hearing mention of the Oil Mill and, also, few people have ever found opportunity, or taken opportunity to visit the mill and find out what it really is.

The Osage Cotton Oil company owns the local mill. Their main work begins in the fall just as soon as the cotton comes in and continues throughout the cotton season until late in the winter.

The chief product of the mill is cotton seed oil. The mill here produced 452,000 gallons of this product last season. The gross sales from this amounted to $800,000. There is not a housewife but that realizes the value of cotton seed lard and cooking oil. Hog lard is costlier and is less preferable in many households.

The next important product is cotton seed meal and cake. This is fed to livestock. All cattle owners know its fattening power. It is also fed to other kinds of farm animals. The local sales from this product last season amounted to $300,000.

The last and least important product is cotton seed hulls. This is fed to cattle a rule. The sales from this amounted to $25,000.

The mill here not only takes care of the cotton seed in the immediate surroundings of Ada but, for at least 50 miles around, cotton seed is shipped in. Thus, you see, it is an industry of note and one that the city should point to with pride.

During the running season the mill employs two shifts of men, each shift consisting of 40 men. During the idle period about 20 men are employed to repair the mill in various parts. You see from this that the employment that it gives to our population is an item.

The men at the mill now are in the midst of the repairing period. They are installing quite a bit of new cleaning machinery and are, also, erecting a 500,000 gallon oil tank.

Mr. J. H. Patton is the manager of the local mill. Mr. Patton is a young man and has been in the employ of the Osage Cotton Oil company for a number of years. He was stationed here in 1917 when his company took over this mill. He is hopeful for a good cotton crop this season. While the general average of cotton is very low, Mr. Patton stated that Oklahoma's crop is better than that in surrounding states. If favorable weather continues the general average will be raised. Mr. Patton recently sold out the old round bale gin here to Mr. J. B. Hammonds of Kansas.

Photograph of Oklahoma Portland Cement Company Plant at Ada. This is the largest cement plant west of the Mississippi River. It is a wet process plant, being free of all dust. Built of concrete and steel.

LARGE PAYROLL AT CEMENT PLANT

$75,000 PER MONTH TO THEIR EMPLOYEES—BIGGEST PLANT IN THE WEST—LOCAL MAN MANAGER.

Yesterday the News man made a trip thru the plant of the Oklahoma Portland Cement company. He was shown thru the place by Mr. H. J. Garrett of the business office.

The Machine Shop.

This department is equipped with all overhead drive machinery including drop hammers, sheet metal cutters, and has a system of lathes which will handle any grade of metal. In this shop there are 35 men employed whose sole duty is to repair the various parts of machinery for both the old and new plants.

One particular phase of this shop noticeable is that of the acetylene welding machines, which will weld any size piece of steel and finish the broken part in such a manner that it can hardly be detected from a solid part. The work done by this process is claimed to be even better than that of the original weld.

Stock Assorting Room.

Sacks for the purpose of holding the finished product are sorted in this room. A building 200x250 is filled with these sacks and has 20 men who do the sorting and tying. The filling section of this building is equipped with two Bates packing machines. The cement is taken from storage by screw conveyors, eight in number. The conveyors work from an elevator, from here to the Bates weighing machine and scales and is packed and trucked to cars. The packing prime (or elevator) is motor driven and the conveyors are driven by belts, sprockets and gears. Each pack scale is driven by a motor.

The Bag House.

One beating machine which is motor driven is the feature of this department. Empty sacks when returned to the plant are placed in this machine and beat until all the surplus dust is eliminated. This saves some cement and is a great help to the employees as it makes away with the bad dust conditions which is caused by handling of sacks. Twenty ladies are employed in this room and they seem to enjoy the work.

This department is under the supervision of Carol Von Phul.

The Exhaust Tank.

A large tank for the purpose of catching all waste water and steam has been erected. Exhaust pipes from every building in the entire plant lead to this tank. It is the means of saving water and much expense. The construction of the tank is of concrete throughout and has a fence encircling its area.

Slurry Mixers.

A trip thru the new mill revealed the fact that its construction was in the hands of experts.

The slurry mixers (or raw material) is driven by electric motors. A composition of stone and shale mixed with water is handled by this machine which has a rotary motion. This process continues until the mixture is ready for the kilns where it is dried and afterwards transported thru conveyors to the packing department.

All Motor Driven Machines.

In the new mill there is not a single belt driven piece of machinery in this entire plant, as motors are all direct shaft driven. The power for this plant is furnished by the electric system which is located at Byng.

The Kilns.

After the slurry products leave the machines they are conveyed to the kilns and dried. These large tubes which rotate are heated with gas and are 100 feet in length. As fast as the cement is dried it is conveyed to the stock room and placed ready for shipment.

Raw Products.

pany is creating office efficiency.

The Office and Lawns.

The company is setting a pace with civic attractiveness when it comes to neat appearing lawns. The grass is kept mown and beautiful shade trees are in evidence alongside the various walkways. Flowers planted in beds over this lawn are attractive and show that much care is being given them. As a whole one might state that the Oklahoma Portland Cement company's plant is neat and attractive.

The Lunch Room.

At the noon hour all employees assemble in this large room and enjoy their lunches. This building is solid white in the interior and has several conveniences, such as tables, chairs and water. Aside from this there are books, magazines and other things that are at the disposal of the employee.

All Concrete Buildings.

There is not a single building of wooden construction in the entire plant. The total number of buildings used by the company will near 60, some of which will cover two acres. Their construction is of concrete and steel.

The Bath Houses.

After quitting time in the afternoon the employees are privileged to have access to the bath houses.

The rooms for both ladies and gentlemen are equipped with shower sprays both hot and cold water.

This is something that the employees appreciate and is very essential for some of the men, for some of them are employed in the departments where the dust is very bad.

Austrian Cabinet Resigns

By the Associated Press

VIENNA, June 11.—The Austrian cabinet headed by Dr. Karl Rener, as chancellor, which office he has held most of the time since the armistice, has resigned. The break came unexpectedly over the minister of war's decree of army discipline, about which a question was raised in the national assembly yesterday by the Christian socialists.

Steedman Citizen Pleads Guilty to Assault Charge

Charles Adams and Olen Westlake were arraigned before Justice Brown this morning on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. They were implicated in a difficulty that occurred several days ago at Steedman and were accused of attacking Tom Hilton with a pipe wrench, being made to appear this morning that Adams never used any weapon but his fists and that Westlake was some distance from the fracas, the court permitted Adams to enter his plea of guilty of assault and battery and Westlake was discharged. Adams paid $29 as fine and costs.

Normal and Campus

By Shelby S. Bruce.

The Normal activities are in full swing now and the work being done by the students shows a marked improvement over that of last summer's term.

Miss Bond, instructor of home care and nursing will give an exhibit in the next few days. This work is under the direction of the American Red Cross.

The 1920 edition of the Pesagi has been received by the senior class of the East Central State Normal. Pesagi is the Chickasaw word for teacher and the book is the senior class annual.

The Y. W. C. A. have established an ice cream booth near the north side steps of the normal. They report a splendid business and will use the money made to defray the expenses of their social affairs.

The Methodist church has extended an invitation to all students of the normal to be present at the Sunday School day program to be held on next Sunday. We are proud of all who may want to attend.

The Methodist church extends an earnest invitation for you to be one of the 600 present at the Sunday School day program. This service will start at 10 o'clock. A class and a welcome for you to be one of the 600.

The Phi Beta fraternity held a meeting yesterday afternoon with the entire membership present. Matters relative to coming social events were discussed and it was decided to hold several affairs in the course of the next few days.

The students will be entertained this afternoon in the auditorium with a picture show. The plans are completed whereby the show can be given each Friday afternoon and it is requested that every one be present as the class of pictures that will be shown are interesting as well as educational.

Captain Frank S. Weir will be at the Normal for three days beginning June 30, and July 1 and 2nd. He is an instructor of most games and his work is proving very successful in school over the state. Details of his program will be published later.

E. A. Winship of Boston, Mass., will address the assembly on next Tuesday morning. Mr. Winship is the editor of the School Journal and is one of the country's most able speakers. We are fortunate in having this man with us and it is earnestly requested that every student of the Normal hear him.

The gym classes are taking special instruction in column formations and have their parts learned very good. It is the plan of Miss Anna Weaver Jones, the director of physical training, to introduce all modern games and give military drill to members of the various classes.

The Pesagi is always a much sought after book at this season of the year, and it is doubtful if a better one has appeared during the history of the normal school here than the 1920 issue.

The printing was done by Russell & Cockrell of Amarillo, Texas, and is a work of art in every respect. The cover is of black limp leather, stamped in gold, and the book contains 106 pages. The photographs are splendid and the editing in every department is of the best quality.

Mowing the athletic field started this morning. The Normal will support a good ball club and other sport clubs thru this term. Yesterday afternoon the Normal team played a practice game with some of the visitors from the city. The game was very interesting and the honors were carried away by the student team, the score totaling 7 to 4. Mr. Robinson has charge of the athletics.

this term and is planning to present some very lively contests.

Athletics

A healthy interest is maintained in athletics at the Normal. The school believes in clean athletics and that it is better to lose a cleanly played game than to win an unsportsmanlike method. The Normal is a member of the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Athletic Association and regularly schedules intercollegiate games with the members of this conference.

A splendid athletic field with a quarter mile running track numerous tennis and basketball courts and a large gymnasium give ample facilities for the carrying on of this work.

Warning.

The "Old Man" is being maligned and even blasphemed. His name is being used carelessly. A "Man's Wig" has been found and it is feared the "Old Man's" delay in arriving indicates some foul play has come to the messenger. Let all Neophytes take warning and be very cautious.—A Brother.

The above notice was found this morning tacked on the bulletin board and this furthers the belief among the students that the "Old Man" is near and his work is done under the cover of darkness. Yet, all are confident that they will see him in person sometime soon. Without a doubt he is some mysterious person.

The Chorus.

The chorus held their regular practice this morning at the auditorium. The class has a membership of 150 and new people are daily making application for a place in the class. Miss Starr, the director, is very much pleased with the interest shown by the members of this organization and hopes to have them ready for a public concert soon.

The practice will be held four times each week at 9 o'clock and will last one hour. They will give a cantata by Frederick H. Cowen on their first appearance in public. This will probably be at the regular chapel exercises. They are accompanied by the Normal orchestra, under the direction of Fred Schriber.

The chorus have arranged a program to be given on the night of July 23rd in the auditorium at which time they will give special vocal numbers. The Schriber orchestra will play the accompaniment.

The girls glee club has been organized and has a membership of 28. They will appear at the assembly exercises soon, according to a statement made by Miss Starr, the director. They are practicing two days each week for the present.

The men's glee club will appear in concert at the end of the term of the summer session. This organization

Course of Studies

The course of study, and the regulations governing them, which are given below, have been worked out by the state board of education. Prospective students of this school should make themselves acquainted with them.

1. Requirements for Admission. Students may be admitted to the first year of the Normal preparatory upon presentation of a county diploma of graduation from the eighth grade; or, upon presentation of a certificate showing completion of the eighth grade of city or village schools; or, upon passing the required entrance examination. Provided, that persons twenty-one years of age or over who have not attended school for several years may be admitted at discretion of the president.

2. Advanced standing: Students may be admitted to advanced standing in two ways: First, by examination, and second, by credits earned in other schools. Each student desiring to secure advanced standing by examination shall file one and only one application for such examination, which application shall state in detail the course on which such examination is desired, and shall be passed on by the classification committee. Such examination will be given once and once only in each term. The work done by students entering from high schools before graduation shall be evaluated by the registrar of the school. No subjects pursued in a high school course shall shorten the normal course to fewer than twenty-four units of work; but work done in an approved fifth year high school course shall be allowed credit not to exceed six units, in accordance with the practice of the University of Oklahoma.

LABOR MEN OPPOSE G. O. P. LABOR PLANK

By the Associated Press

MONTREAL, June 11.—The labor plank adopted by the republican national convention was condemned here today by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. He referred especially to the section of the plank providing for the settlement of public utilities strikes by tribunals similar to the Esch-Cummings transportation act of 1920.

Pittsburg County Corn Whiskey Makes Indians Talk Unknown Lingo

Fighting grand mothers, chewing nails to pieces, pulling up tall trees by the roots, whipping armies of policemen—these be as nothing. Pittsburg county's home distilled has been discovered to have still more marvelous inspiration for imbibers. It makes 'em talk in unknown tongues.

Two Indian witnesses before the federal grand jury at McAlester Tuesday afternoon testified through an interpreter altogether. They couldn't understand a word of English.

Tuesday evening C. C. Lydick, assistant U. S. attorney, saw the same two Indians in front of the Bushy hotel at McAlester staggering as if oppressed by a heavy secret. They were carrying a heavy load, but it wasn't secret. They blurted it right out.

"Catch um two quart corn whiskey," they confided in Lydick. "Cost 'um $12 quart. Good corn whiskey."

T. E. Brents, assistant chief special officer of the United States Indian service, who happened to be talking with Lydick, and who was worked up the criminal cases in which the Indians are witnesses, was as astonished as was the attorney to hear the loosened tongues speak English. And incidentally he has started a hunt for another dealer in the drink that makes 'em talk strange languages.
